

Tenant Protection Ordinance Packet

St. Louis Park City Council adopted an ordinance enacting a tenant protection period following the sale of an affordable housing building, with the goal of protecting lower-income tenants in the city. The tenant protection ordinance was recommended by a city-convened workgroup that includes representatives from MN Multi-Housing Association, the St. Louis Park rental community and representatives from agencies advocating for the preservation of naturally occurring affordable housing (NOAH).

Under the ordinance, new owners of affordable housing would be required to pay relocation benefits to tenants if the owner increases the rent, re-screens existing residents or implements non-renewals of leases without cause, within a three-month period following the ownership transfer of the property and the tenant chooses to move due to these actions.

NOAH properties are defined as buildings where at least 18% of the units have rents affordable to households with incomes at or below 60% Area Median Income (AMI).

This Tenant Protection Ordinance packet includes the following:

- Ordinance
- Frequently Asked Questions
- Draft tenant letters
- Resources for tenants
- Affordable Rent Table: The City of St. Louis Park uses the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Affordable Rent limits which are updated annually, typically in March or April. Current rent limits will be posted on the city website.

As the owner of a multi-family rental property, it is your responsibility to understand the requirements set forth in the ordinance. If you are selling your property, you can request a copy of this packet or download it at https://www.stlouisparkmn.gov/government/departments-divisions/housing/affordable-rentals.

St. Louis Park Tenant Protection Ordinance Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the Tenant Protection Ordinance?

The Tenant Protection Ordinance requires a three month period following the ownership transfer of a Naturally Occurring Affordable Housing (NOAH) multi-family residential property in which the new owner is required to pay relocation benefits to tenants if the new owner increases the rent, rescreens existing residents or implements non-renewals without cause and the tenant chooses to move during this period.

2. Why was this ordinance adopted by the City of St. Louis Park?

The proposed ordinance reflects the city's priorities and goals to promote and facilitate a balanced and enduring housing stock that offers a continuum of diverse life-cycle housing choices including the preservation of naturally occurring affordable housing. The city is concerned about displacement of low income tenants residing in NOAH properties that have been sold to a new owner.

The ordinance allows for a three month period of time for residents to work with housing support resources and seek alternative housing if they are facing unaffordable rent increases, new screening criteria requirements, or a thirty day non-renewal without cause notice to vacate. The ordinance also requires the new owner of an affordable housing building to provide notice of the ordinance protections to tenants of affordable housing units within 30 days of the sale of an affordable housing building.

3. When does the ordinance apply?

The ordinance applies when there is an ownership transfer of a NOAH property.

4. How do I know if my building qualifies as a NOAH property?

NOAH is an abbreviation for Naturally Occurring Affordable Housing. NOAH properties are defined as buildings where at least 18% of the units have rents affordable to households with incomes at or below 60% Area Medium Income (AMI).

5. Does a transfer of sale include an ownership transfer to an immediate family member? Or as the result of inheritance?

If it is an actual transfer of ownership title that was not previously in place, it would be considered a sale and the ordinance would apply.

6. Would the policy apply to bank owned or foreclosed properties?

Yes, all multifamily residential properties transferring ownership through the sale of the property that meet the definition of a NOAH property would be required to comply with the ordinance. For a foreclosed property, the three month notification period will begin when the redemption period has expired and the new owner has taken possession of the property.

7. Does the ordinance apply to only the residents residing in the property's NOAH units or to all units in the building?

NOAH rental units only.

8. How will NOAH properties be identified? How will affordable rents be established?

As part of the annual rental licensing process for multi-family buildings, owners will be asked to list the number of units and the number of affordable units in a property. If the rents charged for at least 18% of the units are at or below rent amounts affordable to households with incomes at 60% AMI or below, the building is certified as a NOAH property. A similar certification will be included in the Point of Sale application for a property maintenance inspection which must occur prior to the sale of the property.

9. The current definition of the ordinance is based on the percentage of affordable units required in the initial Inclusionary Policy, if the policy is amended, would the ordinance be amended to conform to the policy?

The ordinance can be amended but it will not automatically be amended to coincide with the Inclusionary Policy. Each amendment would require separate actions by the council to amend the current ordinance/policy.

10. What is my responsibility as a seller?

It is the responsibility of the seller to identify their property as a NOAH property at the time they submit their application for the Point of Sale inspection. Sellers should make sure that the potential buyers are aware of the ordinance either directly or through their broker.

11. I'm buying a NOAH building – what is my responsibility?

If the property meets the definition of a NOAH property, the new owner is required to comply with the requirements of the Tenant Protection Ordinance.

12. Who needs to be notified?

For properties in which the ownership is transferring and the property meets the definition of a NOAH property, the new owner must comply with the requirements of the Tenant Protection Notice including notification to all tenants residing in NOAH units.

- 13. Where can I find the 60% Area Medium Income (AMI) rent limits? Current rent levels can be found on the City's web page.
- 14. Can I raise rents, facilitate non-renewals without cause or re-screen existing residents during the three month protection period following the transfer in ownership?

Yes, this ordinance does not prohibit a new owner from taking the actions listed above; however, the owner would be required to pay resident relocation benefits if they do take any of those actions during the 3 month tenant protection period following the transfer in ownership.

15. When does the new owner have to provide relocation benefits?

A new owner is required to pay relocation benefits to tenants if the rent is increased, existing residents are rescreened or non-renewals are implemented without cause and the tenant chooses to move during this period during the three month tenant protection period.

16. Where can I find the required relocation benefit payment amount? Current amounts can be found on the City's web page.

- 17. Are there any restrictions after the three month Tenant Protection period expires?

 No, owners can manage the property in accordance with their management practices and the tenant lease.
- 18. Are there income restrictions that apply to the households residing in the NOAH units?

 No, the NOAH designation is based on the rent amount charged regardless of the tenant's income.
- 19. If a lease expires during the three month protection period, can I raise the rent? You can renew the lease but any rent increases must be effective following the expiration of the three month tenant protection period has expired.
- 20. Does the City imposed penalty of $500 per unit for failure to comply with the Tenant Protection Ordinance apply to all the units in a building or only those units that qualify as a NOAH rental units?

 The penalty only applies to NOAH rental units.
- 21. Can tenants waive the protection period and/or relocation benefits?

 No, the ordinance applies to the actions of the new owner. The tenant cannot waive the ordinance requirements.
- 22. Does the ordinance apply if the management changes in the building?

 No, the ordinance only applies if the ownership of the property transfers.
